A Substantial Organization that Means Business-A Cotton Mill to be Built in Fort Pickering.

Grounds and Machinery Purchased, and Work to Begin on the Building Without Delay-Stockholders, Etc.

A representative of the APPEAL dropped in on Mr. W. J. Booker, of Jacobs & Booker, and Mr. John K. Speed, of John K. Speed & Co., yesterday and learned from each of these gentlemen some valuable information conperning a new and extensive cotton mill to be built in Fort Pickering. It was ascer-tained that the prime movers in the enterprise have been earnestly, though quietly, at work until now its success is beyond peradventure. It was proposed at the outset to organize the company on a CAPITAL STOCK OF $100,000, and their labors have resulted in securing all but about $15,000 of that amount, which could also have been readily obtained but for the fact that it was preferred to let that amount out only to Memphis merchants who handled the articles to be manufactured by the company. The readiness of securing subscribers to the stock was practically denonstrated to the satisfaction of the APPEAL representative yesterday in the fact that while conversing with Mr. Speed on the subject, a capitalist standing near by overheard the conversation and becoming interested in the enterprise, without solic-itation, remarked to Mr. Speed, "You may put me down for $1000 worth of stock. It's the thing we need in this country; and I don't believe we can make better investments of our money than in building up manufac-tories in the South. I would like to invest $1,000,000, if I had it, in just such schemes, especially if all were on as solid a basis as I discover this to be."
